

Update Employee Constraint

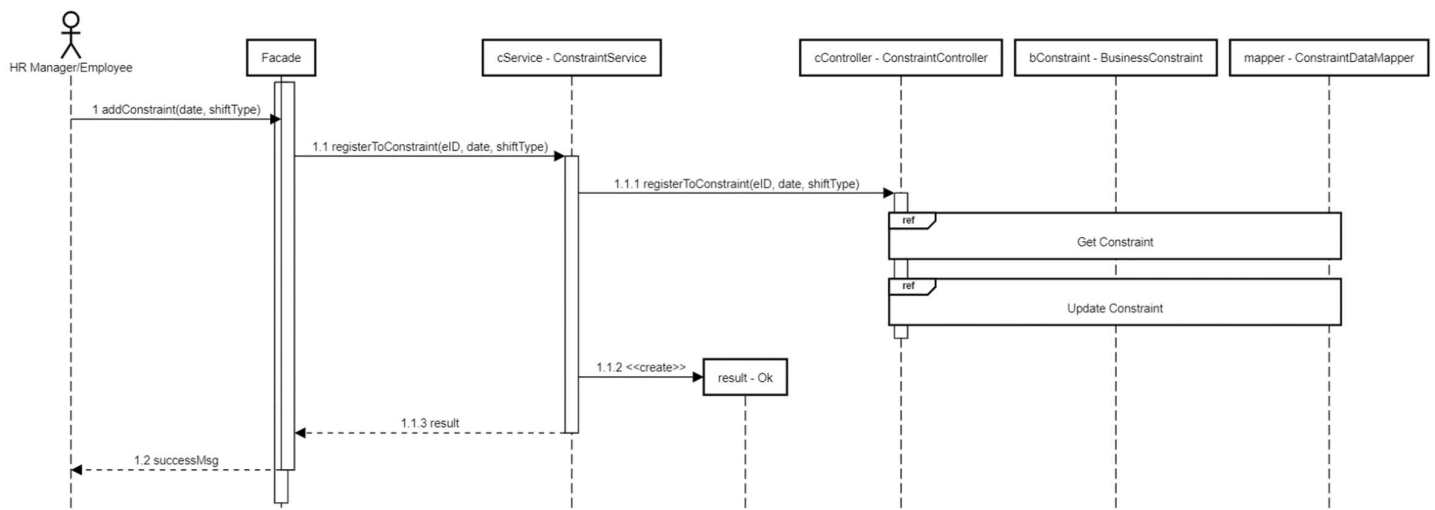

In order to update employee constraints the HR manager or the employee itself will first have to open the Employee-Management-Menu and then choose whether to add or remove constraints.

Both these processes run in a similar fashion – the user inputs the date and shift-type they can or can't work and will be notified with process success. This process doesn't fail unless an IO exception occurs when data is saved in the DB.

Adding Constraint

Removing Constraint

